SIX ATTACKS BY 80,000 RUSSIANS FAIL; BERLIN DISPUTES CLAIMS OF BRITISH

600 CAR STRIKE RIOTERS BATTLE POLICE IN BRONX; MANY HEADS ARE BROKEN

Motormen, Conductors and Sympathizers Hurl Cobblestones at Cars and Reserves From Behind Barricades—Gangsters Hired as Guards

Fears of the police that rioting in the strike against the Union Street Railway Company in the Bronx would be renewed were justified this afternoon by a running battle on Westchester Avenue from Prospect Avenue to Cauldwell Avenue in which stones were thrown in showers and many heads were broken by police clubs.

About two hundred former motormen and conductors and four hundred sympathizers made use of the cobblestones and sewer pipe piled along Westchester Avenue to make barricades on the street car tracks. They stopped a southbound car with one of these, blocked its retreat with another and were demolishing the car with paving stones and standing off the police in the vicinity when the reserves from the Morrisania Station arrived.

"Don't stop to make arrests, men," was the police order. "Fan 'em and fan 'em good and plenty."

POLICE OBEY THEIR ORDERS WITH SPIRIT.

The orders were obeyed with spirit, though not a few policemen got back as good as they gave. The rioters ran off down the avenue as soon as the stones in hand were exhausted and began building new barricades near Calwell Avenue, near the Lebanon Hospital. Warned of the nearness of the sick people in the hospital, they increased their disorder, according to the police.

The Morrisania reserves caught up with them just as the Simpson Street reserves came up in the rear. And once again, according to spectators, the police "fanned 'em good and plenty" until there were no more trouble makers in sight.

About 40 per cent. of the Bronx cars were in service through the middle of the day, but few passengers used them.

Inspector Richard O'Connor, in charge of the police of the upper part of the Bronx, reported to Chief Inspector Schnitzberger that he found the men ostensibly hired by the company to ride on cars as guards and as switch turners were recruited from the strong-arm bands of the east side. According to O'Connor, Jack Sirocco was in general charge of these gangsters and was using Jack Foggi, long known to the police as a street fighter, and another youth of the same type, Chick Davis, as his lieutenants on the two divisions of the railroad.

Police Commissioner Woods said he meant to serve police on the railroad company as to the character of its new employees, and ask in the interest of public peace and order that they be dismissed.

MOUNTED POLICE ORDERED TO THE BRONX.

Sixty-five police cavalrymen and motorcycle scouts were sent to the Bronx to patrol the long reaches of streets on which the assaults on motormen and conductors by raiding parties have been frequent. Reports that the strikers, contrary to the outspoken advice of their leaders at strike meetings, were congregating in saloons near the car barns prompted Chief Inspector Schnitzberger to arrange for reserves to be held in Manhattan stations should the situation grow ugly.

President Mahon of the Amalgamated Street Railway Workers' Union said that the strike was a success.

DEUTSCHLAND ASKS FOR A PILOT TO TAKE HER TO SEA

Indication That Submarine Plans Getaway on Homeward Voyage.

BALTIMORE, July 28.—The Deutschland prepared to-day to take on a pilot from the Maryland Pilots' Association, but that organization said Owen Coleman, who brought her up river, was out of town, and not immediately available for service.

While Capt. Zack Cullison of the tug Timmins wants Coleman, the rules of the association require that vessels take "the first man out"—the first man on the pilot list.

A twenty-four-hour crew is aboard the Timmins, giving the impression that the stay of the Deutschland is not long and that when she does head out she may plan a layover in the lower bay before trying to run the allied patrol.

Watches aboard the German submarine freighter Deutschland want to see the ships of England go.

They fear that a plan is afoot to have vessels in ballast in the harbor follow the Deutschland out to the Cape and "accidentally" ram her. This would save the allied patrol a big task, and, as one of the Germans put it, the Britisher could say, "Oh, I beg pardon! I will pay you damages."

This fear is believed to have been the compelling motive behind orders to delay the Deutschland's departure.

The Bremen, however, is a vital factor. Stories that she has been captured brought the comment from a Deutschland official to-day:

"Bah, she is not lost until three or four weeks." And, he added that the Deutschland's sister ship is too clever to fall into the meshes of the allied patrol.

Canadian Government Denies Capture of Submarine Bremen.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 28.—The Naval Department denied to-day that there is any foundation for the story published in New York that the German submarine Bremen has been captured and taken into Halifax.

Two Miners Killed in Car Crash.

CRENSHAW, Pa., July 28.—Two miners were killed and eight others injured to-day when mine cars, on which they were riding to the workings of the Pennsylvania Coal and Coke Company near here, were wrecked.

PARALYSIS CURE BELIEVED FOUND, 134 NEW CASES

Experts See Hope of Checking Disease by Adrenalin Treatment.

BAR LIFTED SLIGHTLY.

City Asks Leading Doctors to Council—New Gain Made in Brooklyn.

Thirty-five deaths from infantile paralysis were recorded to-day by the Health Department. This is an increase of four deaths over yesterday's figures. There were 134 new cases against 151 yesterday.

Interest in the infantile epidemic fight in Greater New York was centered to-day on the New York Throat, Nose and Lung Hospital, No. 229 East Fifty-seventh Street, where the adrenalin-urotropin treatment advocated by Dr. John S. Meltzer has been used during the last twelve days with good results.

Dr. Simon Flexner, head of Rockefeller Institute, visited the hospital with Dr. Meltzer and examined the infantile paralysis patients. As Dr. Flexner is acting in an advisory capacity with officials of the Health Department, his visit brought forth a report that the treatment might be adopted throughout the city.

Dr. E. J. Birmingham, executive surgeon at the hospital, had some convincing figures to submit to Dr. Flexner. He also was ready to report that six of the patients have practically recovered under the new treatment and that they will be discharged from the institution within a few days. These patients have been treated only twelve days and their rapid recovery is said to be unprecedented in the history of infantile paralysis.

Dr. Charles F. Bolduan, head of the Bureau of Public Health Education of the Board of Health, said the reports of deaths and new cases throughout the city indicated that the epidemic is being held in check. The figures are as follows:

| DEATHS. | |

Total deaths to date 745
Total cases 2,411

Dr. Charles E. Banks, in charge of the Government experts who are fighting the epidemic in New York, detailed surgeons to-day to watch the One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street Station of the New York Central and the New Haven roads and the West One Hundred and Thirtieth Street ferry. Dr. Banks said that no restrictions would be placed on children leaving New York for week end trips, except that Federal and local health certificates are required.

WHITMAN REFUSES TO SAVE STIELOW FROM DEATH CHAIR

Plea of Little Daughter of Condemned Man That He Is Innocent Fails.

NO NEW FACTS, HE SAYS.

Convicts Provide Fund to Take Family of Prisoner to Sing Sing for Last Farewell.

(Special to The Evening World.)

ALBANY, July 28.—Gov. Whitman to-day refused to interfere in any way with the execution of Charles Stielow, sentenced to die in the chair at Sing Sing to-morrow for the murder of Charles Phelps, a farmer, and his housekeeper, Margaret Wolcott, at Medina, N. Y., in April, 1915.

A pathetic appeal for a further reprieve was made to the Governor by the thirteen-year-old daughter of Stielow, who declared her father was at home on the night of the double murder and could not have had any part in the crime.

Stielow's wife and two other of his children added their pleadings for the condemned man and Lawyer David A. White of Buffalo, Stielow's attorney, made a presentation of new developments in the case, but Gov. Whitman said he could not act.

The Governor ruled that the little girl's evidence was corroborative and threw no new light on the crime. A claim made by Lawyer Wright that Stielow was mentally deficient did not impress Whitman.

Mrs. Stielow and her children were brought to Albany from their home up-state by Lawyer White with money contributed by convicts in Sing Sing. The fellow prisoners of Stielow collected $40 in an effort to express their sympathy for the condemned man. They sent this money to White saying it would help pay the fare of the mother and little ones to Sing Sing to pay a last farewell to the husband and father.

After to-day's hearing Lawyer White with the Stielow family took a train south to Sing Sing.

MEDINA, N. Y., July 28.—Charles Stielow's wife and other women interested in his case spoke at a mass meeting here yesterday to a cause public opinion.

The speakers included Mrs. Milholland-Holmes, Stuart Kohn, Mrs. Grace Humiston, who has worked untiringly to obtain the condemned man's release, and Missa Appelbaum, leader of the Humanitarian Club.

Mrs. Humiston said, after Justice Cole of Buffalo had denied the motion for a new trial Wednesday:

"Justice Cole seemed disposed to believe that every affidavit in favor of Stielow was false and that those fighting for his death were all truthful. The fight to bring the guilty ones to justice will go on even if Stielow is executed, and the State will be shocked by the resultant disclosures. The people's case rests upon an untrue confession that is replete with absurdities and incongruities."

MRS. EMMA LEWISOHN, WIFE OF BANKER, DEAD

Victim of Heart Disease Was Long Active in Charitable and Art Fields.

Mrs. Emma Lewisoohn, wife of Adolph Lewisoohn, millionaire banker and copper magnate, died early to-day at the family's summer home, Elberon, N. J., of heart disease.

Mrs. Lewisoohn was sixty-one years old and the mother of two sons and two daughters. She was widely known for her charities, especially where orphans were concerned. Mrs. Lewisoohn also was interested with her husband in the collection of art treasures.

In the Jewish bazaar at Grand Central Palace last March Mrs. Lewisoohn was one of the leaders, conducting a booth, in which she took much pride.

German General Whose Army Lost New Ground in Battle To-Day

The picture shows Gen. von Linsingen looking through a "scharnierfernrohr" (a periscope). He is in command of Teutonic troops along a 150 mile front. His army has been pressed back in Volhynia by the repeated drives of the Russians. He has a personality that animates his staff and permeates to the furthest outpost, and it is this personality that is chiefly accountable for the exuberant morale and optimism of the "Polynian" front. Von Linsingen has three sons in the army—one a Brigade Adjutant in his own army, one a flier Lieutenant and another a Cuirassier Captain.

BRITISH PATROLS SUNK IN BATTLE WITH SUBMARINES

Dutch Newspaper Reports Engagement Off the Scotch Coast—Part Rescued.

BERLIN, via Sayville wireless, July 28.—The Dutch newspaper Handelsblad reports a naval battle off the Scotch coast between several German submarines and the patrol boats Nellen, Nutton, Onward and Eva. The Nellen and the Nutton sank.

Three sailors were killed, the remaining sailors being rescued by a Dutch fishing boat off the Doggerbank and landed in a Scotch harbor.

The other two patrol boats are supposed to have been lost with their crews.

Four German torpedo boats brought up two British trading ships off Landskrona, in international waters.

It is understood that three of those rescued from the Nellen and Nutton died later as a consequence of their wounds.

LONDON, July 28.—Eight fishing boats—"B-vring drifters"—were sunk by German U-boats on their fishing grounds, according to announcement to-day.

BREMEN AND ANOTHER SUBMARINE CAPTURED?

Captain of Liner Cretic Says He Has Information That the British Hold Sister Ships of Deutschland.

(Special to The Evening World.)

BOSTON, July 28.—Capt. Frank B. Howarth, commander of the liner Cretic which arrived here to-day, said that from information which he has received from an authoritative source the submarine Bremen had been captured.

"I believe," said Capt. Howarth, "that the German merchant super-submarine Bremen is in the hands of the English. This belief I base on information I have received from persons who should know. I am told as a matter of indisputable fact, that a big merchant submarine similar to the Deutschland. This submarine is now lying peacefully in some quiet harbor on the British seacoast, for it was captured by allied cruisers in the English Channel. I think the Bremen has been disposed of in the same way."

GEN. HAIG REPORTS CAPTURE OF REST OF DELVILLE WOOD AND PART OF LONGUEVAL

German War Office Declares That Attacks Near Pozieres and Fourcaux Wood Broke Down and That Fighting in Delville Wood Goes On

LINSINGEN LOSES GROUND, BERLIN WAR OFFICE SAYS

Berlin reports the repulse of six bitter attacks by 80,000 Russians upon the army under Prince Leopold of Bavaria. It admits further losses by von Linsingen, but claims counter attacks are in progress.

It is announced by the London War Office that the British troops have driven the Brandenburgers from the whole of the Delville Wood to which they have clung so tenaciously. Fighting for this wood has been as desperate as any in the entire war. It is near Longueval, in which village the British claim further gains to-day.

Berlin says the British cannot boast of having progressed. The War Office declares attacks near Pozieres and Fourcaux Wood were broken down. It answers the British report by saying "bitter hand-to-hand fighting occurred at Longueval and in Delville Wood."

Gen. Haig admits that Germans entered the front trenches near Neuve Chapelle, but says they were driven out by counter attack. There are heavy artillery battles at many points.

Russian troops in France again made themselves felt last night by clearing German trenches in Champagne in hand grenade attacks.

The battle at Verdun is still raging with violence. Paris reports the checking of a German effort to attack at the Thiaumont work, northeast of the citadel.

The Russian advance, directed at Brody, in northeastern Galicia, is continuing successfully, Petrograd announced. Sakharoff's forces have driven the Austrians back to the Boldurovka, a branch of the Stry, which runs through Brody. Rome reports additional ground gained by the Italians.

BRITISH REPULSED, SAYS BERLIN; LONDON CLAIMS BIG SUCCESSES

Haig's Report of the Capture of Rest of Delville Wood Disputed by German War Office.

BERLIN, July 28.—"The enemy cannot boast it has progressed," declared the War Office statement to-day, referring to British attacks in the Pozieres sector.

The text of the German official statement follows:

"A German patrol in the district of Neuve Chapelle brought in two machine guns and thirty prisoners, of whom three were officers."

"North of the Somme the English fire was increased to its greatest strength. In the afternoon strong attacks were launched near Pozieres and at Fourcaux Wood and to the southeast of it. They broke down in front of the German positions."

"At Longueval and in Delville Wood there was hand-to-hand fighting, but there also the enemy gained no successes."

"South of the Somme the artillery of both sides continues active. Otherwise there were only attacks of hostile hand grenade troops near Soyecourt, which were repulsed."

"To the east of the Meuse French enterprises against Thiaumont work failed."

LONDON, July 28.—British troops have driven the German Brandenburgers out of every position of Delville Wood, according to Gen. Haig's report to the War Office to-day. The reports last night indicated that the Fifth Brandenburgers held a portion of the Delville Wood after the fighting of yesterday, but they were driven out when the battle was resumed to-day. Following is the text of Gen. Haig's report:

"After severe fighting we have driven the Fifth Brandenburg Division from their remaining positions in Delville wood, capturing three officers and 188 men. The whole wood now is in our hands and two German counter attacks have been beaten off with heavy loss to the enemy."

"We made further progress in Longueval village and near
